James went to the first meeting yesterday. The president spoke about the restructuring which moved Dr. Woodworth-Ney into an Executive VP position. This will allow the president to focus more on ISU's mission and outreach centers.

Federal agencies came to campus over the summer because of some past issues with diversity and Title IX. So far reports back have been ok.

General Counsel has fewer staff members. They are asking for patience.

INL is increasing education grants with the office of research. This will hopefully lead to more opportunities for students.

Enrollment numbers are down 7.5% but nothing is official until 10th day. New and transfer student numbers are up.

There is a change in tuition waivers. There will be more in-state waivers for students. This is happening more for students from Utah because Utah does the same thing for Idaho students.
