Honors Study Abroad Opportunity

Honors is excited to announce a Summer 2026 study abroad opportunity!

Led by Dr. Haley Hardman, ISU Professor of Marketing, students will travel through Germany, Austria, Poland, and Czechia, engaging in an immersive international experience. Throughout the program, participants will explore rich historical landmarks, vibrant cultural traditions, and unique sociological perspectives, while also gaining valuable insights into European business and global markets.

This unforgettable journey promises both academic enrichment and personal growth as students broaden their worldview in some of Europe's most fascinating destinations. Some of the itinerary items include FC Bayern's Allianz Arena, Red Bull Hangar-7 in Salzburg, Bouzov Castle, Auschwitz-Birkenau WWII Concentration Camp, among many others!

The trip is scheduled for May 15-26, 2026, and will be part of an early six-week summer course.

This opportunity is available to all Honors students, regardless of major or program, and will be worth 3 upper-division Honors credits. Dr. Hardman will be running information sessions soon--stay tuned for those dates in future UHPWU editions.

Internship Opportunities

Idaho National Laboratory is seeking both graduate and undergraduate students pursuing STEM degrees to join our Science & Technology Internship Talent Pipeline. This immersive program offers hands-on, mission-driven research experiences that directly support INL's work in nuclear energy, national security, and critical infrastructure.

Students will collaborate with world-class scientists, engineers, and technical professionals on projects that span advanced reactors, cybersecurity, materials science, environmental science, and more. Undergraduate interns are expected to apply foundational knowledge from their academic programs and develop new technical skills.
